

TABLE OF CONTENTS

The Implications of Israel's new Basic Laws Concerning Human Rights on Criminal Law

|                     |  |     |
|---------------------|--|-----|
| Aharon Barak        | The Constitutionalization of Israeli Law: The Basic Laws on Human Rights and Criminal Law              | 5   |
| Menachem Elon       | Criminal Law in a Jewish and Democratic State  | 27  |
| Adi Parush          | Moral Responsibility, Criminal Liability and the Value of Human Dignity                                | 87  |
| Mordechai Kremnizer | Justified Deviations from the Requirement of Mens Rea   | 109 |
| Miriam Gur-Arye     | Deviations from the Requirement of Culpability   | 129 |
| Eliahu Harnon       | Illegally Obtained Evidence – Has the Law Been Affected by the Basic Law on Human Dignity and Freedom? | 139 |
| Emanuel Gross       | The New Constitutional Rights of the Defendant in Israel   | 155 |
| Leslie Seba         | Human Rights and the Penal System: Did the Nineties Produce Two Constitutional Revolutions?            | 183 |
| Ruth Kannai         | Proposal for Sentencing Reform   | 227 |
| Moshe Talgam        | The Need for a Multi-Purpose Punishment System   | 247 |
| Dan Bein            | The Basic Laws and Specific Offences   | 251 |
| Leon Sheleff        | Human Dignity in Legislation and Litigation  | 265 |
| Judith Karp         | Legislating Criminal Procedure in View of the New Basic Laws   | 275 |