

CONTENTS

Menachem Brinker	Aesthetic and Non-aesthetic in Works of Art	7
Ben-Ami Scharfstein	Keeping the World Together	15
Ruth Lorand	What is Fictional about Fiction?	29
Shlomy Mualem	Aesthetic Observation in Plato and Early Wittgenstein	47
Dorit Barchana-Lorand	Aristotle on Internal Censorship of Poetry	79
Eddy M. Zemach	The Meaning of Fictional Names	97
Dorit Lemberger	“(My) Doubts Form a System” – Wittgenstein’s Linguistic Philosophy as Literary Criticism	115
Moshe Goultshin	Kurzweil’s Aesthetics	137
Ido Geiger	“The Oldest System-Program of German Idealism” – Translation and Introduction	159
Lea Dovev	Language, Alchemy, Fantasy: A Hermeneutical Approach to Leonardo da Vinci’s Anatomical Studies	165
Sandra Debenedetti Stow	Umberto Eco and the Theory of “The Chase After the Signs” in the Fictional Wood	195

Tzachi Zamir	Spenser's Representation of Money in the Faerie Queene	213
Ruth Ronen	A Portrait of the Artist as Genius: Joyce with Lacan	235
Yaffa Wolfman	Turning Points in Sartre's Aesthetic Views	253
Avi Sagi	Czeslaw Miłosz: On the Fragility of Existence	277
Rachel Albeck- Gidron	Nationality and Addressees: Texts and National Affiliation – The Case of Yoel Hoffman	297
Aïm Deüelle Lüski	Following Uri Zvi Greenberg: The Ontological Moment of the Hebrew Language	311
Amir Banbaji	Rehabilitating Allegorical Plays of the Haskalah: A New Reading of Adam Ha-Cohen's Work and A.J. Paperna's Criticism	333
Idit Einat-Nov	Aesthetic Qualities, Convention, and Switching Aspects: The Medieval Hebrew Poem from Spain and Modern Theories of Reading	367
English Abstracts		V