

CONTENTS

Foreword	11
Preface	13
Chapter One: Primeval Conviction and Method – Kurzweil’s Version of Phenomenology	25
A. The hermeneutical circle – from an incongruous constraint to a fundamental element in the question of existence: a genealogy of phenomenology (and hermeneutics) from Ast to Gadamer 26; B. Kurzweil and the hermeneu- tical circle – the art of vigilant comprehension 45
Chapter Two: Aesthetics and Persuasive Definitions in Kurzweil’s Thought	64
A. The accurate demarcation of the literary work – Kurzweil vs. Lessing 66; B. Aquinas – quiddity and form, goodness and beauty 72; C. Schopenhauer – cessation of the flow of will 74; D. Nietzsche, Croce & Benjamin – separation of the aesthetic from the ethic and their rejoining in the first half of the twentieth century 79; E. The meaning of beauty – "Pourquoi écrivez-vous?" 89
Chapter Three: The Protestant Era – Kurzweil and Theology	94
A. Tillich’s mediative philosophy as a key for an under- standing of Kurzweil’s theological-cultural thought 97; B. A commandment in the course of misdeed – The Kurzweil-Scholem controversy regarding Sabbatai Zevi 112; C. Kurzweil and Ahad HaAm – A putsch to the false messiah of mediocrity 134; D. Kurzweil and the Canaanities 140; E. Kurzweil – between Kant and Breuer 146; F. Insight and blindness – incongruity between Kurzweil’s principal declarations and his actual criticism 151; G. Kurzweil – between Catechism and canon 153

Chapter Four: Ups and Downs – Kurzweil and Agnon	158
A. Kurzweil and Agnon – on tradition and modernism: seeds of calamity in the soil of the present 159; B. The entropy of the critical sense 170; C. Agnon, Kurzweil and the whole- ness of the loaf 173
Summation	188
Bibliography and Bibliographical Abbreviations	195
Index	205