

CONTENTS

Preface 11

Introduction 15

1. A new approach to the works of Rav Kook 15; 2. Did someone try to hide the new image of Rav Kook? 30

Part One

Tzaddiq Yesod Olam

Chapter One: Tzaddiq Yesod Olam – The Formative Image in Rav Kook’s Mystical Mission 43

1. Reconstructing Rav Kook’s self-image as a Tzaddiq and a Mystic 43; 2. The mission and methods of the Tzaddiq of Jaffa 61; 3. Myth, image and reality in Rav Kook’s self-perception as a Tzaddiq 96; 4. “He generates a mighty Tzaddiq” – the Tzaddiq’s effect on existence: Between mysticism and theurgy 112; Tzaddiq Yesod Olam – Conclusions 132

Chapter Two: Mystic and Public Leader – 1: Mysticism and Society 139

Foreword 139; 1. Aspects of the relationship between mysticism and society – an overview 140; 2. Reflection of the tension between mysticism and society in Rav Kook’s journals 149; 3. Mysticism and society – summary 189

Chapter Three: Mystic and Public Leader – 2: Mysticism and Religious Authority 193

1. Aspects of the relationship between mysticism and religious authority – an overview 193; 2. Expressions of the clash between mysticism and religious authority in the mystical journals of Rav Kook 196; 3. Mysticism and religious authority in Rav Kook’s halakhic rulings 202

Part Two
Rav Kook’s Mystical Experience

Preface 219

Chapter Four: Rav Kook’s “Love of Delights” Experience 223

Foreword – Two love stories 223; 1. Defining the pattern – The imprint of the “love of delights” pattern 224; 2. The thirst – “I am lovesick” 226; 3. “The love of delights” – The soul’s experience of Devequt 233; 4. The vision of channels – the image that awakens the experience of Devequt 247

Chapter Five: The Pattern of “Creation” – On Rav Kook’s States of Inspiration and Creation 254

Foreword: Between Devequt and creation 254; 1. Defining the pattern – the imprint of the “creation” pattern 255; 2. “Creating the soul” 256; 3. Verbal creation 276; Literary creation 284

Chapter Six: The Pattern of “Creation” – The Prophetic Experience of Rav Kook 296

Foreword 296; 1. The anticipation to conceive the heavenly and prophecy in Rav Kook’s diaries 296; 2. The conceptual experience of the “creation” pattern – voice, hearing, prophecy 299; 3. The experience of revelation involved in seeing – seeing the internal and seeing the world of souls 317; 4. The pattern of “creation” and “the book of creation” – the connection and its meaning 323; Conclusion: fire, water and spirit – Rav Kook’s mystical experience 325

Part Three
Rav Kook’s Messianic Experience

Preface 331

Chapter Seven: Rav Kook’s Messianic Response to the End of the War and the Balfour Declaration	335
1. The reflection of historical events in the messianic collections 336; 2. Messianic motifs in the later collections 340; 3. Messianic initiatives – “ Degel Yerushalayim ”, “ Halakhah Berurah ” and the restoration of the Sanhedrin 346
Chapter Eight: Prophetic Power and Messianism – Rav Kook’s Messianic Experience	351
1. “Speech leaves its exile” – speech, prophecy and power 351; 2. The redeeming Messianic figure as a basis for identification 366
Chapter Nine: Messianism and Messiah in Rav Kook’s Circle	372
1. Esoterism and messianism by Rav Charlap 372; 2. Messiah and messianism in the world of the Nazir 386
Conclusion	395
Contemporary Reflections at the Close – A Concluding Essay	400
1. Questions and reflections 400; 2. “And your people are all righteous”? 402
Bibliography	409
Indices	429