

CONTENTS

Introduction	11
The Zealotic Paradigm 16; Zealotry and the Controversy of the Houses 21; Hillelic Openness and Davidic Origin 31; ‘The Name has an Effect’ 36; Typology and Zealotry 41
Chapter 1: Zealotic Archetypes	51
The Josephic Son and the Judaic Siblings 57; The Unique under the Threat of Exclusion 64; The Carob Tree and the Length of Time 71; Christianity and Hastening the End 88
Chapter 2: Judah and the Messianic Deviation	96
The Zealot and the Purity of Lineage 99; Openness and Innovation 104; The Separation (hapereda), the Mule (hapirda), the Doves (haperidot) 109; The Messianic Spring 111; The Father’s Sin and the Dynamics of Messianism 117; The Return to Life 121
Chapter 3: Joseph and the Messianism of the Unique	126
The Unique Facing the Many 137; Two Powers 142; R. Aqiva and the Josephic Unique 145; Judaic Guilt and Martyrdom 153; Zechariah’s Blood 155; From Joseph to the Josephic Messiah 167; Birth from Heaven 171; The Martyr’s Beauty 176
Chapter 4: Not in Heaven	182
Tradition and Innovation 184; R. Eliezer and R. Yehoshua as Representatives of the Rival Houses 192; Controversy of the Houses and Gender 200; Nullifying a Vow 202; Hillel and Desecration (Hillul) 206; ‘From Then On’ 211; Compromise (Peshara) and Thawing (Hafshara) 216

Chapter 5: Engraved on the Tablets	219
From the Day after the Shabbat 224; Cancellation of the Decree 228; The Writing and the Testimony 231; Appointed Time, Testimony, Attestation 236; Zealotry and Heaven's Decree 243; Silencing the Heavens 249; 'The Main Part of His Presence is Below' 252; Enoch and the Condemnation of Worldliness 255
Chapter 6: R. Shimon bar Yohai, The Amendment of a Zealot	261
Rashbi and Bar Kokhba 268; The Bath and the Hillelic Grace 272; Dancing, Playing the Fool and Grace 275; Sabbath Eve 283; 'And He Pitched his Tent Before the City' 289; Purification as Acquittal 292; R. Aqiva 'the Hinderer' (hameaqev) 296; Sufferings and Bathhouses 300; Twilight 304; Solidarity 311
Appendixes	315
A. The Beauty of Japhet 315; B. The She-ass (hamora) and Severity (humra) 324
Chapter 7: The Houses of Hillel and Shammai as Mirror of the Houses of David and Saul	331
The Messianic Gush 341; Song, High Tide and Haughtiness 348; 'Too Modest' 350; The Dance and the Birth 355; Zealotry and Absence 358; The Raging Hunger 365; The House of Saul and the House of Shammai 370; R. Meir and the Shammaic Sharp Mind 376
Chapter 8: Shammai: Desolation (shemama), Left (smol), Samael	389
The Amendment of the Shammaic Approach 391; The Ordination (semiha) and the Happiness (simha) 394; The Repulsing Left 398; 'Rely on Me' 400
Chapter 9: The Double Life of R. Aqiva	403
The Learning of Torah and Eros 407; The Other Woman 410; Widow in her Husband's Lifetime 416; Ben Azai – Daring unto Death 419; The Treasuries of Yavne 426; The Controversy with R. Ishmael 433; The One and the Other 445

Chapter 10: The Ascent to the Pardes and the Son's Sacrifice	451
The Son as Sacrifice 455; Sending Away the Mother 458; Aaron and Titus 464; 'Zion will be Plowed like a Field' 470; R. Aqiva and the Sadducean Mistake 472; 'It Took Only a Few Days Until...' 477; 'You shouldn't Have to Lengthen' 480
Chapter 11: 'I will Cover You with My Hand'	485
'None shall Appear before Me Empty' 487; Behind the Substitute 490; Symbolic Offer and Real Sacrifice 493; 'For You it was a Trial, for Me a Deed' 495
Conclusion	500
Bibliography	511
Index	527