

CONTENTS

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Preface | 9 |
| Foreword | 13 |
| Texts Analyzed in this Book | 19 |
| Introduction | 21 |
| Two Narratives Concerning the Nation of Israel 21; Rabbinic Perspectives 30 | |
| Chapter One: Maimonidean Universalism | 39 |
| Universalism and Particularism 39; Mishnah Sanhedrin IV.5 40; Mishnah Avodah Zarah II.1 and Avodah Zarah 22b 44; Commentaries on Maimonides 46; Maharsha (R. Samuel Edels) 51; 'Farteicht un Farbessert' 52; Maimonidean Universalism 57 | |
| Chapter Two: The Foundation of all Foundations | 59 |
| Dogmatics 59; 'Faith' 63; 'Faith' in the Bible 64; 'Faith' According to the Rabbinic Sages 66; In Contrast: 'Faith' According to the New Testament 67; 'Faith' in Medieval Jewish Philosophy 68; Defining Human Beings: Aristotle and Maimonides 71; The Divine Image 77; Esotericism and Elitism 79; Conclusions 86; Additional Note: More on Faith and Knowledge 86 | |
| Chapter Three: The Pillar of the Sciences | 89 |
| Foundation – Pillar – Root 89; What is Hokhmah ? 91; Hokhmot in Laws Concerning the Foundations of the Torah 94; Hokhmot in the Introduction to the Guide of the Perplexed 96; Hokhmot in Commentary on Mishnah Hagigah II.1 97; Hokhmot in the Introduction to Maimonides' Commentary on the Mishnah 99; Hokhmot in Laws | |

Concerning Repentance 108; Mishneh Torah – Why Was it Written? 112; Halakhah and Prophecy 119; Summary and Conclusions 123

Chapter Four: To Know 124

The Commandment to Know – Who Can Fulfill It? 124; Ma'aseh Bereshit and Ma'aseh Merkavah 131; Morality as a Precondition for Intellectual Perfection 135; Maimonides on Aristotle 140; Who Loves God? 143; Afterword 146

Chapter Five: That There Exists a Prime Existent 147

She-yesh Sham 147; Prime Existent 148; Afterword 154

Chapter Six: All Who Come Into the World 155

Chapter Seven: The Days of the Messiah 168

Introduction to Helek 169; Thirteen Principles 172; Laws Concerning Repentance, Chapter IX 173; Laws Concerning Kings and Wars XI and XII 176; Guide of the Perplexed III.11 190; The Epistle to Yemen 191; The Epistle Concerning Resurrection 197

Chapter Eight: Was Maimonides Indeed Universalist? 201

Afterword 212

Our Aspirations 212; This World 214; Rabbi Judah Halevi and His Followers 215; Maimonides and His Followers 218; Why Remain Jewish? 220; Beyond Maimonides 220

Bibliography 223

Indices 243