

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	9
Introduction: Restless Writings	11
Chapter 1 – On Manifestos	27
1. Characterizing Manifestos 29: From the sovereign to the people, from politics to literature and art 29; Manifestos, modernism and avant-garde 33; The dynamism of the genre 41; 2. Doing Things with Words: Manifesto as Action 45: Manifestary speech-acts 45; Speech-acts, theatricality and self-awareness 47; 3. Manifestos, Legitimation and Myth-Making 50: The manifesto as declaration of difference 50; Manifestos and imagined identity 53; 4. The Art of Making Manifestos 56: Between conventionality and innovation 56; Manifestos and violence 64; 5. The Dialogic Dimension of Manifestos 67; 6. “A Manifesto is Always and Never!” 73
Chapter 2 – A Hebrew Tradition of Manifesto Writing	77
1. Founding Manifestos: Between History and Mythology 80; 2. Generic Structure 87; 3. Three Rhetorical Models 92: Rhetoric of void 92; Rhetoric of sincerity and doubt 97; Rhetoric of self-negation, mimicry and play 102; 4. Nevertheless – A Manifesto 105: Imagined dialogues in a monologic genre 105; The Brenner myth and the “nevertheless” 118
Chapter 3 – Founding Manifestos at the Turn of the 21st Century	125
Contexts: From dispirited to Forthright Rebellion 125; 1. Out of the Void 133: Alone in the battle: the manifestos of Emda 133; Ev, Ho! : controversy in manifestos 142; The new elitism: Ketem, Dehak 160; 2. “Who Needs It?”: Sincerity and Doubt 170: Hadarim, Ha’Meorer and the Brenner myth 173; Little steps: Apirion, Gsharim, Shufra, Makom, Alpayim, Dimui, Helikon, Rehov, Beit Ha’Sofer, Mashiv Ha’Ruach, Hineh, Shvo,

Gag, Ha'Kivun Mizrach, Dag Anonimi?, Nekudatayim, Nefetz, Urbania, Magma, Scheherazade, Ma'amakim, Almanach, Davka, Daka, Ketta, Orot 177; 3. Between Manifesto and Parody: Self-Negation, Mimicry and Play 192: Efes-Shtayim: anti-manifesto 192; Resling: "the signifier is freed" 196; From Ma'ayan "with love" 204; Hava Le'haba: back to the future 212; 4. Who Are "We"? Manifestos and the Social Protest 215: Shetef: collaborative writing 217; "Long live the tent republic!": Shiron Ha'Mahapecha 220

Endnote: From Exclamation Mark to Question Marks	225
Bibliography	230
Founding Manifestos at the Turn of the 21st Century: An Anthology	241
Index	319